Porsche Convertible top fix
The convertible top on the Porsche Carrera is hydraulically actuated. This means that rather than using the traditional approach of cable and pulleys, the car uses a set of pressurized cylinders to both open and close the top. Over time, the system can leak or fail, causing your convertible top to get stuck in either the up or down position. In ...

Depending on the repair area if you then tension the top in the closed position, it should provide enough force to hold the pieces together, otherwise a couple a paint stirrers and a few C-clamps work great. Another area of concern is the two metal hooks on the front edge of the convertible top. Over time, these can fatigue and even snap off. The good news is that they are easily replaced as ...
