Piper's latest book, Brothers, We Are NOT Professionals!, is one more missile in what has become an arsenal of books aiming at the apathy and hum-drum routine of most American churches. This time, Piper pleads with pastors of local churches to realize they are not part of a cultured profession; rather, the very heart of their calling as pastors is to be radically God-centered, most often at the expense of a respected position in the world.

Review: Brothers, We Are Not Professionals | Wisconsin ...

Some years ago, Brothers, We Are Not Professionals was rated by Preaching magazine as one of the "Ten Best Books Every Preacher Should Read." Given the number of doctrinal concerns with the book, it would be difficult to recommend it in good conscience.

The Hole in Our Holiness Professionals - Desiring God

"Brothers, We Are Not Professionals," as the subtitle suggests, is a plea for a radical change away from pastoral ministry as business management and back to first-century pastoral ministry as shepherding the Church of God.

Free eBook: "Brothers, We Are Not Professionals" by John Piper

Brothers, We Are Not Professionals is a book full of candid pastor-to-pastor challenges by John Piper. Each of the thirty short chapters addresses a different issue, but as the title suggests, the whole book is built on the premise that "pastors are being killed by the professionalizing of the pastoral ministry."

Brothers, We Are Not Professionals Quotes by John Piper

Brothers, we are not professionals. We are outcasts. We are aliens and exiles in the world. Our citizenship is in Heaven, and we wait with eager expectation for the Lord (Phil. 3:20). You cannot professionalize the love for His appearing without killing it. And it is being killed. The world sets the agenda of the professional man; God sets the agenda of the spiritual man.
