UCSD's Practical Guide to Clinical Medicine

Clinical decision making can be defined as choosing between alternatives, a skill that improves as nurses gain experience, both as a nurse and in a specific specialty. [2] Clinical decision making requires good quality judgment including critical thinking. [3] An earlier definition of critical thinking in nursing is: '.....

Clinical Decision-Making Study Guide for Medical-Surgical ... Clinical decision making is the process by which we determine who needs what, when. While not exactly arbitrary, this exercise can be quite subjective. Each clinician compiles their own data (hence the emphasis on learning to perform an accurate H&P) and then constructs an argument for a particular disease state based on their interpretation of the "facts."
