This post gave me what I needed to solve a timing problem on a David Brown 950 tractor with a CAV p[ump]. The pump was swapped out for what I was told was the original, which I had overhauled. Unfortunately there was no timing mark scribed on the engine, and it has never run really well since I changed the pump.

I have recently purchased a david brown 880 white version. I have a fair bit of experiance with rebuilding tractors and I am currently training to be an engineer at college. My question is – I have purchased an engine rebuild kit for this 880 but I could only get one with unfinished liners! Do you have any idea how to (finish them off?)

David Brown Tractor Technical Engine Specifications

I'm purchasing a small farm here in North Texas, and as part of the deal I'm getting a David Brown tractor. I think it's about a '72 model, right around when Case purchased them. Anyway, it has what I thought was a Perkins diesel engine in it, but when I looked at the block last weekend it had cast onto the side "David Brown".
