At the end of the book The Return of Daud, the Outsider says this: "He sees: In Karnaca, the Duke fell and in his place rose up a man of the people. Paolo had come into the world with nothing and knew the lives of the least privileged." Does that mean that canon choice is killing both Duke Luca Abele and his double?

I don't think it was from fighting Corvo. Daud came back to Dunwall at the time of the coup (according to the Amazon description), and My guess is that something happened between the 2nd novel (which takes place parallel to Dishonored 2) and DoTO (which takes place 2 months after Dishonored 2).

Dishonored: Interrogation, Daud Style

"The Return of Daud" merely serves as a prequel to the most recent Dishonored game, aptly named "Death of the Outsider." Where the book ends, the game begins. Which is a shame, considering the potential there for an interesting tale about one of the most compelling characters in the Dishonored series.
