Now, in a marvelously horrifying turn, John Marks—a former 60 Minutes producer—sinks his satirical teeth into twenty-first-century media. In Fangland, Evangeline Harker is an employee of the legendary TV news magazine The Hour. Sent on assignment to Transylvania, she delivers more than a story when mysterious e-mails, coffins, and a creepy guy named Torgu descend on the New York office.

I did not really care much for Fangland: A Novel by John Marks. I listened to the audio version performed by the author John Marks, Ellen Archer, and Simon Vance. The audio book is performed as best as can be with such weak tea. This is supposed to be a “reimagining” of the classic Dracula story.
