For any function $f(x) = a^x$ where $0 < a < 1$, the function will approach 0 as x approaches positive infinity. That means the x -axis ($y = 0$) is still a horizontal asymptote. The domain is still all real numbers and the range is still all positive numbers, just like exponential functions where $a > 1$.

Graphing Functions There are three steps to graphing a function. Graph $f(x) = |x| + 2$. Remember that $f(x)$ is function notation for y , so rewrite the function as $y = |x| + 2$. Step 1 : Generate points. Unless domain is given, Step 2: Plot points. you can pick any values of x Class Step 3: Connect points. Connect the points with a smooth line or curve.
