79 WPAN: ZigBee (IEEE 802.15.4) ZigBee is a standard that defines a set of communications protocols for low-data-rate short-range wireless networking. ZigBee-based wireless devices operate in 868 MHz, 915 MHz, and 2.4 GHz frequency bands. The maximum data rate is 250 kbits/s. ZigBee is targeted mainly for battery-powered applications where low data rate, low cost, and long battery life are ...

Demystifying 802.15.4 and ZigBee

ZigBee IEEE 802.15.4. The improvement of wireless protocols is a major factor driving the development of newer Internet of Things devices and systems. The ZigBee suite of communication protocols is used to create personal area networks with small, low-power digital radios, such as home automation, medical device data collection, and other low-power low-bandwidth needs.

A Review Paper on ZigBee (IEEE 802.15.4) Standard

IEEE 802.15.4 is a technical standard which defines the operation of low-rate wireless personal area networks (LR-WPANs). It specifies the physical layer and media access control for LR-WPANs, and is maintained by the IEEE 802.15 working group, which defined the standard in 2003. It is the basis for the ZigBee, ISA100.11a, WirelessHART, MiWi, 6LoWPAN, Thread and SNAP specifications, each of ...
