This Online Lecture Notes project is my modest contribution towards that end. Most of the Online Lecture Notes below can be used as course textbooks or for independent study. They include fully solved examples and exercise sets. Most are still work-in-progress and have some rough edges, but many chapters are already in very good shape.

This means that a solution of H_2SO_4 with 3.75 M will contain $2 \times 3.75 = 7.50$ equivalents per litre of solution, so the normality of this solution is 7.50 N. 2 • Note : equivalents mean different things in different reactions.

Before we describe the solution of these equations, let ' s discuss the word linear. Tosay that an equation is linear is to say that if we have any two solutions $y_1(x)$ and $y_2(x)$ of the equation, then $c_1y_1(x) + c_2y_2(x)$ is also a solution of the equation, where c_1 and c_2 are any two constants (in other words, the set of solutions forms a vector space).

he noticed that the solution of $x^3 - 15x - 4 = 0$ is given by $x_0 = 3 + 2 + 11 - 1 + 3 + 2 - 11 - 1$. It was Bombelli ' s famous wild thought that led him to recognize that $x_0 = 4$. This was the first manifestation of one of the truly powerful properties of complex numbers: real solutions of real problems can be determined by computations in the complex domain.
