What is the correct fuse size for the wire coming from the starter solenoid that supplies voltage to the junction. I wired in a 20 amp resettable fuse but I don't know if that's the right size. No a/c, no heater, no radio as of now. When I looked in the manual I didn't see a fuse only a resistance wire, I'm guessing that a fuseable link?

Hi there, I'm hoping someone here can help me, as we don't have a manual or anything for m new favorite toy! Today it started fine, and after doing some yardwork, I went to start it and nothing. The 30 amp fuse was blown. Hubby got another fuse, put it in, as soon as he turned the key, it blew again. Starter is fine, everything else is fine, does anyone have a clue where the problem could lie?

I check my fuses and the 30amp main fuse is blown. I put another in and it blows immediately with the ignition off. I have the repair book so I looked at the electrical schematics. I disconnected the starter, starter relay, ignition switch and removed all the other smaller fuses. Put another 30 amp fuse in and it blows immediately. This sucks!!!
