The Model 500 was a revelation to me and the rest of the audio industry. Capable of brutish amounts of power (far more powerful sounding than the Japanese receivers, like the 2500 and 2600) and far, far better sounding than the horrible 510/M which succeeded it. A big, ballsy, but highly detailed amp, the Model 500 is a credit to it's designers.

While the manual only indicates the 120 as fusible resistors, due to the colouration of all the failed resistors they all appear to be fusible. I have no idea why so many resistors blew at once as the amp shows no tell tale signs of stress/overheating (bulging caps or darkened PCB areas) in the slightest.
