I have seen 'A History of God', as you suggested, and I choose not to respond. I am aware that, from your standpoint, putting one's self in the place of Allah would amount to nothing short of blasphemy. So I will do it for you. If I were Allah, this is what I would say: I am happy. I am happy to see my children mature.

remember that Not God is a reworked dissertation in American Studies, not History. It is essentially academic, but Kurtz retains the ability to marvel at the mystery of the miraculous recoveries that have resulted from the rise of twelve-step programs. Good book without the mumbo jumbo that one usually finds on the subject. He tackles the question:
