(mathematics) -

Wikipedia

The curl of a vector field is
the mathematical
operation whose
answer gives us
an idea about
the circulation
of that field at a given point.

In other words,
it indicates the
rotational
ability of the vector field at that particular point.

calculus, the curl is a vector operator that describes the infinitesimal rotation of a vector field in three-dimensional Euclidean space. At every point in the field, the curl of that point is represented by a vector. The attributes of this vector (length and direction) characterize the rotation at that point.
