State Lab Biodiversity And Relationships

Season 2: Love, Sex & Relationships. The story of human connection starts with primal biological systems. But how do we really understand what brings us together, keeps us together, and drives us apart? In our brand-new season, we'll talk to experts in evolution, psychology, public health, technology, media, and more to explore the science of ...

In 1994, two papers presented evidence supporting the emerging biodiversity and ecosystem functioning hypotheses. The first paper (Tilman & Downing 1994) was based on >200 grassland plots that differed in diversity and composition because of different rates of nitrogen addition, among other reasons. Annual data from before and during a major drought showed that the primary productivity of plots ...
