Holden was made famous by the posthumous publication, in 1977, of her Nature Notes for 1905 under the title The Country Diary of an Edwardian Lady. She was living in Gowan Bank, Kington Green, Olton, Solihull in 1905–06 when she recorded the notes. The collection of seasonal observations and pictures of birds, plants, and insects—which was never even considered for publication when composed—had the nostalgic charm of a vanished world seven decades later.

The Country Diary - Better Living Through Nature

The Country Diary of an Edwardian Lady is an enchanting and charming book, so much so that words are not adequate. Each of the entries is beautifully hand written. My first exposure to The Country Diary of an Edwardian Lady came when I was homeschooling my girls and it was love at first sight.
