First published in 1943, The Lady in the Lake is the fourth Philip Marlowe novel, and my fourth overall. Certainly not as famous as The Big Sleep or The Long Goodbye, it nevertheless came highly recommended to me on the basis that J. G. Ballard considered it his favourite Chandler novel. Having read it now, I can't say I agree.

Lady in the Lake (1946) - IMDb

The Lady in the Lake may not be one of Chandler's better efforts but it is a good snapshot of written noir, the 1940s and the "who done it". Occasionally, I go back and read the classics to see where PD lit started and there's no better combo than Chandler and Philip Marlowe.
