The Love We Share Without Knowing is haunting, strange, and utterly surprising from the first page to the last."--Michelle Richmond, author of The Year of Fog and No One You Know
"Barzak's sympathy and humor, his awareness, his easeful vernacular storytelling, are extraordinary." --Jonathan Lethem, author of Motherless Brooklyn

Dru Hill- The love we had

The reason we will love others best when we love God most is that love in its truest, purest form only comes from God, because God is love (1 John 4:7–8). Love is a fundamental part of his nature. Love is a fundamental part of his nature.

What Is Love, and What Isn't? | Psychology Today

We were talking about the love we all could share
When we find it, to try our best to hold it there with our love
With our love, we could save the world, if they only knew Try to realise it's all within yourself
No one else can make you change
And to see you're really only very small
And life flows on within you and without you
We were talking ...

Part of the difficulty of loving others is that we often try to do it on our own, whipping up feelings of love where none exist. This can lead to hypocrisy and “play acting” the part of the loving person, when our hearts are really cold toward him or her. We must understand that we cannot love apart from God.

The Beatles - Within You Without You Lyrics | AZLyrics.com

One of the best ways to share your faith is to live a godly life. Non-Christians often look at Christians as hypocritical because we say one thing but do another. Show those close to you that you care—spend time with them, help meet their needs and offer to listen when they have problems.

Why is loving others often so difficult? | GotQuestions.org

Love is not a substance, not a commodity, not even a marketable power source. Love has no territory, no borders, no quantifiable mass or energy output. One can buy sex partners and even marriage partners. Marriage is a matter for the law, for rules and courts and property rights.
