A new format for this humorous twist on a visit to the zoo, just who has the more interesting view? As morning dawns, the zookeeper makes his rounds, exhorting the animals to wake up, comb their hair, and stand up straight.

Kathleen Long Bostrom - The View at the Zoo

The story is about what the ANIMALS see at the zoo, but that is not necessarily apparent in the reading alone. When you look at the images, eventually you get that the people and the animals are essentially the same so the text represents both the humans and the animals... and at the end of the book it is more apparent that its the animal's perspective.

Read to Me: The View at the Zoo

The View at the Zoo is a clever little story about the how zoo animals look at the people entering the looking at the zoo. Each page has very few words on it, making it a quick and easy read for early elementary. This story would make a good read aloud at the beginning or end of a zoo field trip for younger students.
